SAVE THE DATE!!
SBIR/STTR Funding Workshops Nov. 4-5-6
Burlington-Montpelier-Bennington
Early-Bird Preview at the Tech Jam Sat. Oct. 25, 1p.m. Burlington!

The SBIR/STTR (Small Business Innovation Research/Small Business Technology Transfer) program is a $1.5 billion early stage funding source for innovative research and development leading to the commercialization of new products, processes and services.

This is YOUR opportunity to take that “What If” and “If Only” idea and begin the process of bringing a novel, potentially disruptive technology to market. In this informative and interactive workshop – you’ll

- Learn how the SBIR/STTR program operates
  - Federal agencies,
  - The Phase I/II R&D Process
  - Identify topics
  - Technology Transfer
  - Elements of a Proposal
  - How to avoid the “Valley of Death”

- Listen to how Vermont supports SBIR/STTR companies

- Listen to Vermont innovators that have been there and done that
  - Lessons learned
  - How to get funded first time around
  - How the review process works

- Prepare an outline of how your technology would be presented in an actual SBIR/STTR proposal

Who should attend?
Small businesses, entrepreneurs, scientist, inventors, consultants as well as service providers to network with active SBIR/STTR participants – YOU!

When should I be there?
The workshops run from 10 am to 3 pm and we’ll give you a light lunch as well – no cost to you!

Where should I show up?
Burlington Tech Jam, Saturday, October 25, 1:00 p.m.  242 Main

AND…
- Burlington  Tuesday November 4  University of Vermont
- Montpelier  Wednesday November 5  Capital Plaza Hotel
- Bennington  Thursday November 6  Bennington College

How do I find out more and pre-register?  Send an email to epscor@uvm.edu

Paid by NSF EPS 1101317